Dear Mr. Mullard:

On December 12, 2007, this office sent you a letter informing you of some additional reclamation work that needed to be completed on the access road leading into the Limelite Green Quarry near Rosebud, Box Elder County, Utah before we could consider the earthwork done. That Letter stated:

Before we can consider your reclamation complete, aside from re-vegetation, you will need to remove the gate and rip the mine road from your quarry down to where it intersects with the main Rosebud Canyon road below your operation. Along with ripping the road, you will also need to recontour the road-cut that you constructed at the beginning of the road. As the road only accesses the quarry and you will have to bring a piece of equipment to the site to complete this reclamation, BLM would like the road completely reclaimed.

We believe that leaving any portion of the road in place would compromise your reclamation efforts at the quarry. There are several other roads in the area that will accommodate members of the public who wish to use public lands in the area. We have coordinated with Lynn Kunzler with the State of Utah, Division of Oil, Gas, Mining on this matter.

On February 4, 2008, this office received a letter from Northern Stone Supply Inc. and in that letter you acknowledged receiving the December 12, 2007 letter and requested "confirmed details on the road" so you could complete the reclamation.

Re: Task #2019, S/037/0122

Dear Joel:

This is to request your release of Russell Industries' $5900 reclamation surety bond for the above referenced task.

As you know, we were permitted to remove the tailings pile in question, but have decided otherwise. We believe it would be too costly a project for the estimated return it would bring. Therefore, we have decided to scrap the project before any real work is actually done.

We ask that you inspect the area as soon as possible and contact the State with your recommendation that the bond be released. Unless campers or other visitors to the area have significantly disturbed or otherwise altered same, we are quite certain that you will find it much the same as it was when we were originally permitted.

Thank you for your expedited assistance in this matter.

Best regards,

Layne Berman
